

Avonics WORLD CUP 2010 package offer

42" Plasma screen including HD free-sat system installation package

Watch the world cup 2010 in high definition with Avonics 42" PLASMA TV & free sat HD package

Package includes Satellite dish installation

High definition (HD) gives you up to five times more picture detail than standard TV meaning deeper, richer, more lifelike pictures, plus stunning surround sound that puts you at the centre of the action.

freesat gives you an HD service for free, so you can watch HD programmes from the BBC and ITV. All you need is a freesat HD digital box connected to an HD Ready TV, or a TV with freesat HD built in.

42" PLASMA Screen, free sat system, wall bracket, delivery & installation

42PJ350

The HDFS Satellite HD Digital Receiver with freesat has been designed for the reception of both Standard Definition (SD) and High Definition (HD) programming. The freesat specification offers a fully featured Electronic Programme Guide (EPG), interactive 'Red Button' services using MHEG-5 and HD programmes from ITV HD.

The HDFS allows multimedia playback of movies, music and pictures from external USB devices, memory cards and Compact Flash or via a networked PC using the Ethernet port. The network connectivity can be extended further with the addition of the TechniSat USB-WLAN adaptor to provide a wireless solution.
