

4 zone music system

A complete 4 zone music system designed for pubs, bars, restaurants and health clubs that require complete control over 4 different areas, such as bar, lounge, dining and reception.

Six music sources and two microphones can be routed to any of the four output zones with up to 50W of audio power. The bar can be listening to audio from a Sky box while the dining area listens to a background CD.

An option is available for remote control of source and audio level. These neat control plates can be located discreetly behind a bar servery or in a staff area to provide local control.

A paging microphone option provides the ability to make announcements into any or all areas, especially useful for health clubs.
